A REFLECTION FROM FR JAY...

God's Commanded Food

In the Old Testament book of Genesis, we are told about the Fall of the human race from God's grace. God put them in a garden, He commanded that they care for the garden (so our need to work is not the result of sin, it was part of God's plan from the very beginning – it's just after being tainted by sin work now often becomes drudgery for us; before sin there was no drudgery in our work).

But then He gave our first parents a test, He gave them a forbidden food. Would they love God enough to obey? Would they trust God enough to obey? We, of course, know what happened. The devil came to them in the form of a serpent and convinced them that they would be better off if they ate the forbidden food. The devil used intimidation and lies (mixed with truth, which are the deadliest of lies) to convince our first parents to disobey God. When they ate the forbidden food their eyes were opened and they immediately lost God's grace in their lives (which would eventually lead to their bodily deaths as well).

Entire books have been written about all that was going on during the temptation and the ramifications of the Fall.

But we also see in Genesis that God promises a Savior. In Genesis 3:15 we read, "I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your offspring and hers; They [meaning the woman and her offspring] will strike at your head, while you strike at their heel." Theologians refer to this passage as the "proto-evangelium" – translated "the first gospel." It speaks of the promise of Mary giving birth to Jesus who will crush the serpent's head.

But we also see in the Bible many parallels between the Fall and our salvation. Our first parents sinned at a tree, so Jesus is "hung on a tree." "The woman" encourages the original Adam to sin; the new woman (Mary) first leads the new Adam (Jesus) to manifest His glory at the wedding feast of Cana and is at the "foot of the tree" supporting the new Adam as He's obedient unto death. At the Fall there was a "forbidden food," now in our salvation Jesus (our God) gives us a "commanded food."

Today, we celebrate the Feast of "Corpus Christi" – translated – "Body and Blood of Christ." In John's gospel, chapter 6, Jesus tells us that if we do not eat His Body or drink His Blood then we have no life in us. He promises us in John 6:54-56, "Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him on the last day. For my flesh is true food, and my blood is true drink. Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood remains in me and I in him. He had said earlier in John 6:51 & 53 "I am the living bread that came down from heaven; whoever eats this bread will live forever; and the bread that I will give is my flesh for the life of the world… Jesus said to them, "Amen, amen, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you do not have life within you."

You and I have the privilege week after week to receive this incredible "commanded food" that Jesus gives us. As we celebrate this great feast, let us cultivate a deep gratitude for this gift and a deep hunger to receive our Lord and King often. There is no greater gift that God has given to the world than the very Body and Blood of our Savior who desires to share His very life with us.

PARISH LIBRARY BOOK REVIEW

Have you ever read the Bible in an attempt to grow closer to God, only to find some passages confusing?

If so, I understand! I really enjoyed The Gospel of John (Call # 227 MAR), part of a series of Commentaries on Sacred Scripture. Through related references in the Old Testament and New Testament and the corresponding references in the Catechism of the Catholic Church, I saw a fuller picture of what is happening in the Gospel readings. That led me to have a deeper appreciation of my faith and moved me to want to follow Jesus and live as He taught us.

The Commentary reminds me of what Paul Harvey used to say "And now for the rest of the story!" Highly recommended! – Sue

AUCTION ITEMS

Parish picnic auction needs donations that can be included in the auction. The auction is a fun way to reduce the overall cost of hosting the picnic. Donations can be dropped off at D S Cakes in Newbury. If you have any questions, please contact Jeff Cicchella at 216-218-1732.
